Vince Collins, MSW Recovery Coaching in the Emergency Department

Emergency Departments now recognize that Recovery Coaches can make a difference in this high-paced setting by connecting those that are present in the ED to pathways of recovery that can be sustained in the long term.

Recovery Coaching continues to gain momentum throughout the country, and with good reason. Recovery Coaches can, and do, connect people to long term and sustained recovery. Because of this, more and more, coaches are being utilized in a variety of settings, including doctor's offices, police stations, drug courts, treatment centers, and most notably, Emergency Departments. The need for skilled coaches who can easily adapt and work in a fast-paced ED setting is growing exponentially. This course prepares participants for the challenging and rewarding role of a Recovery Coaching in the Emergency Room. Note: Advance proof of completion of Recovery Coach Academy required to attend.

When the social and cultural needs of individuals, families, and communities are supported by understanding, empowerment, and enhanced knowledge, big changes can happen. Throughout the Pacific Northwest, big changes ARE happening. Thanks to members of the Recovery Community, Recovery Service Providers, and Recovery Advocates, we are proud to offer our First Northwest Recovery Symposium in conjunction with our Focus on the Future Conference.

With the theme of Forward-Focused Action, the Northwest Recovery Symposium brings together grass-roots organizations, community leaders, prevention and treatment providers, and strong, empowered voices of recovery to share those changes as we look to the future. Featured topics include Standing up to Stigma; The Hope of Recovery Among Active Duty Military and Veterans; Recovery Advocacy; Co-occurring Challenges and Multiple Definitions of Recovery; Untangling Limiting Beliefs; Recovery Services in Tribal Communities; Harm Reduction Pathways; and Self-Compassion and Self-Acceptance – and many more.

We hope these two days will be full days – and fulfilling days – of learning, sharing, networking, and building partnerships that will help you create Forward-Focused Action.

Welcome!
